

Senior Executive Solutions

Our coaching for top executives is precisely tailored to your needs: networked, systematic and at eye level.

That's what newplace stands for. We support you in your change process. Every client is unique, and we customize our support and tools to reflect that.

Senior Executive Solutions

Our coaching is aimed at executives at the top management level who want to reorient themselves. Regardless of whether you are just brainstorming and still fully in the driver's seat or have already parted ways with your employer: We accompany you in recognizing your development and change potential and thus into a new chapter of your career.

Are you ready to discover yourself and your potentials in order to use them successfully? Then we fit together!

At Eye Level

Do you see your professional future as an operational overall manager, specialist manager, ad interim manager, start-up founder, company buyer or board member? We are your sparring partner and guide you on this exciting and challenging path. Our executive specialists interact with you at eye level, challenge you, network you and connect you with interesting experts.

Sparring Partner

Together with our executive specialists and the programs designed for executives, you will experience an intensive examination of yourself, receive honest, constructive feedback, enrich your knowledge about yourself and learn about your options. In addition to our proven tandemconcept®, our experienced executive coaches also rely on a broad network of experts and executives.

An approach tailored to you

We orient ourselves and the entire procedure entirely according to your possibilities. We are independent of time and place and meet you at a location of your choice. Of course, our premises are also available for discreet meetings. Via our digital platform, you are always in contact with us online and you have access to all documents. Absolute discretion and confidentiality are important matters to us at newplace.

I was lucky enough to hold successful and responsible positions in SMEs and corporations at a young age, but then I wanted to start all over again. The guidance I received from newplace helped me to think creatively and «out of the box», which in turn created completely new opportunities for me. I took over a company with a partner a few months ago and I am involved in two boards of directors. Now I'm truly happy again.

We are there for you. Our team of experts is there where you need us.
We have locations in the cantons of Basel, Bern, Fribourg, Geneva,
Lucerne, Solothurn, St.Gallen, Ticino,
Vaud, Valais and Zurich.
